A Foundation of Care

A foundation provides foundational support for a structure that's much larger.

A foundation is usually hidden—sometimes you forget it's there. Our hospital foundation works behind the scenes, too.

Without a solid foundation of people and support, our hospital wouldn't exist.

Donations from friends like you, who share our commitment to trusted care close to home, are the foundation for enhancing Stoughton Hospital's range of medical services.

Trusted care. Close to home.

Journey Toward Hope

Karleen and Ralph Tyksinski celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a renewed sense of hope. Just a year earlier, Karleen had been diagnosed with breast cancer. A couple days after discovering the lump, she was able to undergo a diagnostic mammogram at Stoughton Hospital's Medical Imaging Department, and she later underwent surgery at Stoughton Hospital as well.

Karleen is one of many people who has a personal appreciation for Stoughton Hospital's fulfillment of its promise of "trusted care... close to home." The hospital delivers on that promise, in part, because of generous gifts from the Stoughton Hospital Foundation's Circle of Friends. Contributions from these generous individuals helped make many dreams a reality.

On the cover: Karleen and Ralph Tyksinski enjoy a walk along Lake Superior as they celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Please join our Circle of Friends in support of these investments in high-quality health care services conveniently located and readily accessible:

- State-of-the-art medical equipment
- Renovation and expansion of hospital facilities
- Expansion of hospital programs, services and community education
- Continued advances in meeting the medical needs of our community

When you and your loved ones need health care, isn't it wonderful to find the highest level of professional and personal care so close to home? When you become part of the Circle of Friends, you join a caring community in a journey toward hope.
